Before taking this course, I googled Dr. Virbhadra and I was really pleased to see that he was a great scientist (founder of the Virbhadra-Ellis Lens Equation!). He is very fatherly and seems to genuinely care about his students. All future physics course that I take in the future will appear inferior.

I would like to learn more about the Virbhadra-Ellis Lens Equation.

Dr. Virbhadra is one is of a kind. He was very helpful and caring. I will miss him. Quizzes help to ensure learning & Wednesday problem sessions were helpful.

Thank you very much for your participation.

1. Lecture was outstanding. Learned more in one class with Dr. V. than I have in weeks of other classes. He teaches why which is so important. He is passionate, and cares about his students. He held study sessions for 6 hours. No other professor is that selfless.

2. Nothing. Students who don't do well don't try. He does everything in his power to help us.

3. Your brilliance is obvious. Keep inspiring students as you have inspired me!

Dr. Vikhradka was an awesome professor. He was approachable for questions and gave an adequate amount of time outside of class to review. His weekly quizzes were fair and encouraged students to keep up with the material. I enjoyed that he taught from the blackboard, especially in a class like physics, rather than using PowerPoint slides. It enables the student to think and then deeply about the material, so because of this, the clarity in which the material is presented.

Review sessions were the most helpful in preparing for this class. Concept learning was good. Taking time to learn relativity was good. Reviewing Wiley TIW was helpful.

More questions on quizzes so each problem would not be worth as much. Make test worth more than quizzes.

Thanks!
